Overview

- Discuss successful strategies for building or obtaining equity
- Discuss debt financing alternatives

Some definitions

- Equity: money raised in exchange for a share of ownership in the company. Ownership is represented by owning shares of stock outright or having the right to convert other financial instruments into stock of that private company.
- Debt: funds borrowed that must be repaid over a period of time, usually with interest. The lender does not gain an ownership interest in the business and debt obligations are typically limited to repaying the loan with interest. Loans are often secured by some or all of the assets of the company.

Microloans

- Provided through intermediaries (usually non-profit microenterprise development organizations)
- Provides loans up to $35,000 to start up and existing businesses
- Very flexible source of financing (more lenient on requirements such as collateral and credit)
- Interest rates typically between 8-15%
- Maximum term is 6 years

Angels

- Seek companies with high growth potentials, strong management teams, and solid business plans to aid the angels in assessing the company's value.
- Typically invest in ventures involved in industries or technologies with which they are personally familiar.
- Often co-invest with trusted friends and business associates (angel network).
- Because of their business experience, many angels invest more than their money. They also seek active involvement in the business, such as consulting and mentoring the entrepreneur.

About 80 funds in operation in the US today

CDVC

- CDVC funds invest in businesses in low-income areas around the world. CDVC funds help businesses to flourish in areas that are in need of economic growth. Their investments create financial returns for investors as well as social returns in the form of good jobs that pay living wages and allow people to rise out of poverty and begin to build wealth.
- Manufacturing has made up 49% of all CDVC investments to date, with services, retail trade, and software development, following at 17, 7, and 6% respectively.
